Equality & Diversity Policy

INTRODUCTION

Radius Trust is committed to providing outstanding educational opportunities for all our pupils and students. The Trust is proud of its diverse community of pupils/students, staff and stakeholders and is committed to maintaining excellence in teaching and learning by ensuring there is equality of opportunity for all, fostered in an environment of mutual respect and dignity.

As used within this policy, 'equality' means ensuring everyone is able to participate in all our activities. 'Diversity' acknowledges there are differences between people, which should be recognised, respected and celebrated.

CONTEXT

On 6 April 2012 public bodies were required to publish information showing how they comply with the new equality duty and setting equality objectives. The published information must be updated at least annually and there is an additional requirement to publish objectives at least once every four years.

Equality

This extends to all the aspects of a person's identity – known as 'protected characteristics' – that are protected under the Equality Act 2010. These are:

- age
- disability
- gender reassignment
- marriage and civil partnership
- pregnancy and maternity
- race
- religion or belief
- sex
- sexual orientation

The equality duty has two main parts: the 'general' equality duty and 'specific duties'.

The general equality duty sets out the equality matters that Radius Trust needs to consider when making decisions that affect pupils/students or staff with different protected characteristics. This duty has three elements. In carrying out their functions, public bodies are required to have 'due regard', when making decisions and developing policies, to the need to:

1. Eliminate discrimination, harassment, victimisation and other conduct that is prohibited by the Equality Act 2010.

2. Advance equality of opportunity between people who share a protected characteristic and people who do not share it.
3. Foster good relations across all protected characteristics – between people who share a protected characteristic and people who do not share it.

Having due regard to the need to advance equality of opportunity is defined further in the Equality Act 2010 as having due regard to the need to:

1. Remove or minimise disadvantages
2. Take steps to meet different needs
3. Encourage participation when it is disproportionately low.

In order to help educational establishments in England meet the general equality duty, there are two specific duties that they are required to carry out. These are:

1. To publish information to demonstrate how they are complying with the equality duty, at least annually;
2. To prepare and publish one or more specific and measurable equality objectives, at least every four years.

Equality objectives for each Radius Trust school can be found on the relevant website.
